Tel: 604 822-5925 Email: metcal6@mail.ubc.ca

When to begin?

If you think you qualify, you may start now by ordering final official transcripts and prompting potential referees for reference letters. If you are currently registered in a program, be sure to order transcripts showing current registration. These scholarships websites are generally update in August with new forms and changes.

Can I apply to both NSERC and CIHR?

No, NSERC and CIHR are part of the Tri-Agency Council and you can apply to only one competition. If you are not sure which one is the correct scholarship to apply to, you can email them a sample of your research proposal and they will advise you.

Can I apply to both NSERC and MSFHR?

Yes.

What about Affiliated Awards?

All NSERC applications are automatically considered for the Affiliated Fellowship – no separate application. If you applied for doctoral CIHR, then you must submit an application if you wish to be considered for the Affiliated. Canadians and Permanent Residents must apply for NSERC or CIHR, in order to qualify for the Affiliated Fellowship. International students are only eligible for AF. For MSc level, no separate application is required for the Affiliated competition.

NSERC

Before you begin...

1. Review instructions on NSERC's site, the "Program Guide for Students and Fellows":
http://www.nserc-crsng.gc.ca/Students-Etudiants/PG-CS/BellandPostgrad-BelletSuperieures_eng.asp
2. Additional information and instructions on Graduate & Postdoctoral Studies website:
