Date of Posting: March 21, 2019

Course: Two courses in Biochemistry and Molecular Biology will be offered as part of the Vancouver Summer Program (VSP). The courses are named “Molecular Mechanisms of Disease” and “Biochemistry and Society: Current Issues.”

Number of Positions: It is anticipated that the equivalent of two (2) eighth-time positions will be available, one to support each course, subject to budgetary considerations.

Qualifications: Applicants must have completed and passed course work equivalent to at least BIOC 303, be (or expect to be) holders of a bachelor’s or master’s degree in a relevant discipline, and be full-time graduate students working under the supervision of a faculty member at the University of British Columbia.

Duties: 1) Attend course meetings
2) Lead problem-based learning tutorials
3) Invigilate university examinations

Hours of Work: VSP is a program offered to visiting international students. The two-course package is compressed into four weeks from July 13 to August 13, 2019. Availability during July and August is mandatory. The maximum time worked will be 48 hrs (including 2 hrs of vacation time) for each eighth-time appointment.

Salary: The salary for an eighth-time appointment during the 2018/2019 academic year will be:

- GTA-I: $1,561.36
- GTA-II: $1,502.44

Application: Application forms are available from Biochemistry website (www.biochem.ubc.ca/)

PLEASE NOTE: Applications should be submitted to Sabrina Cheng, Administrator of the Department of Biochemistry & Molecular Biology (sabrinae@mail.ubc.ca) by April 30, 2019.

UBC hires on the basis of merit and is committed to employment equity. All qualified persons are encouraged to apply. UBC is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from visible minority group members, women, Aboriginal persons, persons with disabilities, persons of any sexual orientation or gender identity, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas. Canadians and permanent residents of Canada will be given priority.
